Numbers, Symbols & Words

Your Daily Warmup Puzzles

In bridge we manipulate puzzles involving numbers, symbols and words and strive for logical solutions (or at least inspired guesses). In each issue this week we will feature a pair of number/symbol puzzles, an easy one here on page two, and a harder one on the inside back cover; and, a word puzzle at the bottom of this page. In all of these puzzles, you will be able to solve them without guesswork, by logical deductions alone, which is what we're all trying to do at the table.

Today's puzzle is called Rectangles. We start with a grid of cells, some of the cells with numbers in them. Your job is to divide the grid into rectangles of various sizes, such that:

- every rectangle contains one numbered cell
- the area (in cells) of each rectangle is equal to its number

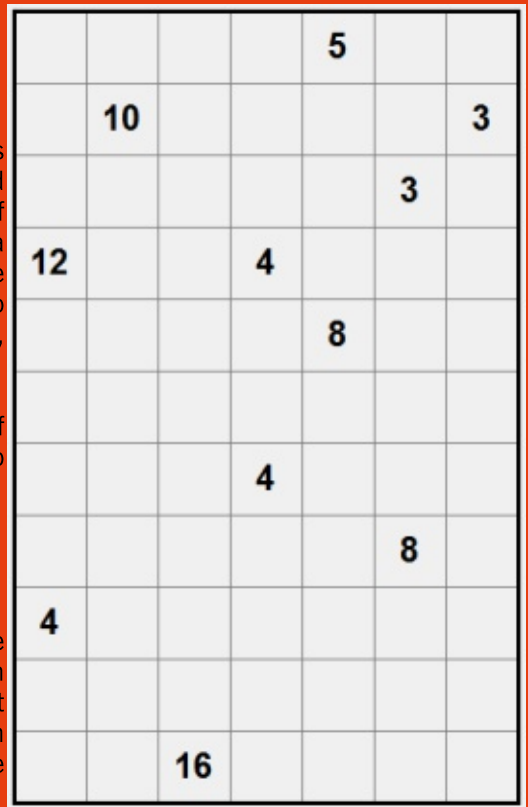

Can't get much easier than that! Remember that squares are rectangles as well: a rectangle of size 9 may be 1x9 or 3x3 in size! The easy version is below. Hints, and a more difficult puzzle will appear on page 11. Answers will appear in tomorrow's Daily Bulletin. For more warmups, check out the word puzzle below.

Word puzzles this week are from an app called Unolingo. It is a crossword without clues! There are exactly 26 blanks to fill in, and each letter of the alphabet fills one of the blanks. The puzzles are designed so that Only common English words are used; there are no unfamiliar, arcane centuries-old words found only in crossword puzzles. You'll do best by looking for the locations of the hard letters first: QU, X, J. Be sure to mark off the letters used in the checking area beside the grid to keep track of your progress. It's not as difficult as it seems! I did most of these in 3-6 minutes.

A list of words in the puzzle (in alphabetical order) is on page 10. If you need a more limited hint, ask someone to examine the word list and tell you if the list contains, for example, a six-letter word starting with D and ending in E.

(The Expurgated Version)

As I type this, it is late and I see the possibility of squeezing down to 12 pages today before the weekend crowds begin to arrive and we use the full room. Four less pages means a lot less room for masterpoint lists, so I'm going to keep this fairly short today to use part of the space below for what everyone looks at, but we have some interesting items coming up for later in the week.

Our first Life Masters of the tournament are Nobi Morris of Wenatchee WA (left) and Darlene Meredith of Vernon BC (right), who both played knockouts yesterday to earn their final pieces. Congratulations!

have two regrets about this fine gentleman: one is that I call him Marv much too often, and the other is that I'm sure he quite justifiably thinks I am the world's worst passenger seat occupant in history. Merv asked me to go direct sectionals in Kelowna and Kamloops with him last fall, and I made the time in a busy club directing schedule; but the effect of all that club directing left me unable to do much but nod off and snore for most of both trips. Merv said it was an impressive ability. 6:20-6:40 today, before the evening session, far corner of the room.

Lots of links to tournament material on the Internet here: tinyurl.com/d19vic2015

Results, Daily Bulletins, photos (soon). We could use a few more photos for the Bulletin: come see me at the end of the room by the concession stand. I could use a break from the duplicating machine.

Connie & Jim McAvoy Tue.-Wed. Knockouts

Winners: HARRIS, GALENZA, HIEBERT

My apologies to the sponsors of this event for misspelling their surname in yesterday's Bulletin.

The Hog-In-Training picked the second bracket winner and little else, scoring 4/15 on his own scale, for a prognosticatorial batting average of .233. Mendoza line, watch out! We should mention, for the 2734th time, that the Hideoe Hog-In-Training's predictions are always mixed with one part clueless opinion and 2-4 parts randomness. Noses that get out of joint from these predictions should be popped back into joint before your game is affected.

Wed. Eve. Powell River Bridge Club Swiss

Winners: PORTER (A, B), BELL (C)

Team PORTER was the beneficiary when the final round match between SCHULTZ and Beny (both undefeated to that point) split the VPs 11-9. PORTER's final round 16 VPs vaulted them into the event win by a single VP. The two Flight C teams in the overalls had already amassed enough VPs to break average when the evil computer matched up BELL against the event winners, and WONDRA against the team with the most masterpoints. Bell emerged with 4VPs in the tough final round and needed each one.

Introductory Puzzle on Page 2

Rectangles recap: Divide the grid into rectangles of various sizes, so that each rectangle has a single numbered cell, and the area of each rectangle is equal to its numbered cell. Squares are rectangles too, don't forget!

Rectangles hints: Look for unusually high numbers or prime numbers. High numbers like 35 will be a 7x5 rectangle, and often there will be only one way to place it. Prime numbers like 2, 3, 5, 7, and 11 can only be a rectangle with a width or height of one, and can often be easily placed. As is so often the case with these puzzles, the optimum strategy often involves starting on the edges and working in. But be sure that there is only one way to make a rectangle of the given size before you mark it in—especially if you use a pen.

How about the more difficult one on this page?

Events in boldface are the first session of a multi-session event.

Side Games can be entered at any time and carry no obligation to play in any other games in the series.

All events are stratified by the average masterpoint holding of a pair or team, but all members of the pair or team must be under the event limit (if there is one), even if the average "just fits."

I welcome news, stories, photos, interesting deals, and other material for Bridge On the Island, and I'll print as much as I can—from experts, intermediates, and novices alike. I will be available for photos of overall winners at various times, depending on how the overnight production of these Bulletins goes. Any win is important enough for a photo: no matter the bracket or strat. I should be available to take photos in the playing area each evening as play ends and at other times at "preduplication station" at the far end of the room.

Each edition of Bridge On the Island is posted online by breakfast time. There may be as many as three places where results are posted, and there is a separate spot for photos taken at the tournament. The District 19 web site d19.org used to be the hub for all of this online activity, but the untimely passing of Randy Corn last December has slowed the District site down a bit. For this tournament, I am posting and updating a page of links at this short URL:

This one short internet address will give you one click access to all sites that are providing coverage for this tournament, explaining what each site offers and letting you know when things are posted. Bulletin links will be there as well for those who like to read the Daily Bulletin with breakfast!
